Tyre Safety

Did you know that the legal minimum tread depth for cars and vans in the UK is 1.6mm?

Any less and you could be risking your safety.

Always change your tyres once the tread wears down to 3mm or less.

To check your tread, press a 20p coin into one of the grooves of the tyre.

If you can still see the outer band, your tread is likely below 1.6mm and needs to be looked at!

Always remember to check at least 3 places on the tyres and look out for disproportionate wear.
